

Between the Covers
November / December 2005
Volume 20, Issue 6

Steve Berry

The Templar Legacy

The ancient order of the Knights Templar possessed untold wealth and power until they were wiped from the face of the earth. Now two forces vying for the treasure learn that it is not at all what they thought it was—and its true nature could change the modern world.

William Bernhardt

Capitol Murder

When a senior senator from Oklahoma is accused of the murder of a female intern, attorney Ben Kincaid heads to Washington D.C. to find out the truth.

Jackie Collins

Lovers and Players

Amy is set to marry Max, an older powerful man. At her bachelorette party, Amy makes a huge mistake and has a fling with a handsome stranger—who turns out to be Max's brother.

Deborah Crombie

Water Like a Stone

In this 11th book in the Kincaid and James detective series, Duncan takes Gemma, Kit, and Toby to visit his family in Cheshire. Their visit is marred when Duncan's sister Juliet discovers the mummified body of an infant interred in the wall of an old dairy barn.

Elizabeth Crook

The Night Journal

Meg is sick of her family history—great-grandmother Hannah was famed for diaries detailing her daring life on the frontier as a Harvey Girl. But then Meg discovers that the diaries may not have been entirely truthful.

Jennifer Cruise

Anyone But You

Nina thinks the last thing she needs is Fred—part basset, part beagle, and part manic-depressive puppy. Then Fred brings home Alex Moore, poster boy for lonely women. Nina loves Fred, but isn't sure she wants Alex too.

Kiana Davenport

House of Many Gods

While treating victims of a Hawaiian hurricane, Ana, a doctor finds love with a Russian documentary filmmaker.

Linda Fairstein

Death Dance

When a famed ballerina disappears from the Metropolitan Oprah House mid-act, Alex Cooper must investigate.

Joy Fielding

Mad River Road

Fresh out of prison, Ralph heads for Mad River Road and the ex-wife who helped lock him up. Meanwhile, her life a shambles, Jamie finds tender love with a stranger.

Gail Godwin

Queen of the Underworld

Emma Gant launches her career at the Miami Star at the same time refugees from Castro's Cuba flood the city.

Carol Goodman

The Ghost Orchid

Novelist Ellis Brooks is accepted at Bosco, a present-day artists' retreat set in a Victorian mansion in upstate New York. Her plan is to research the mansion's mysterious history, but will trouble stay away long enough for Ellis to get her story?

W. E. B. Griffin

The Hostage

Charley Castillo, an agent for the Department of Homeland Security, must solve a kidnapping when a diplomat's wife goes missing.

Martha Grimes

The Old Wine Shades: A Richard Jury Mystery

Richard Jury takes the case when he hears a puzzling story about a missing wife and child.

James Grippando

Got the Look

Miami attorney Jack Swyteck finds out that his new girlfriend is married when she is kidnapped and her husband refuses to pay the ransom.

Brian Haig

Man in the Middle

Trouble brews for Army lawyer Sean Drummond when a defense official who was a big supporter of the Iraqi invasion, commits suicide.

Alex Kava

A Necessary Evil

Investigating a killing spree, Maggie O'Dell—the FBI profiler assigned to the case—realizes that more than one perpetrator is responsible. She discovers a disturbing Internet role-playing game for youths who have been victims of male authority figures—including Catholic priests.

Jayne Ann Krentz

All Night Long

Irene returns to her hometown to help an old friend. Her friend's sudden death triggers memories of the long-ago murder-suicide of Irene's parents and thoughts that the events must be related.

John Lawton

Little White Death

In London during the swinging '60s, Scotland Yard lawman Frederick Troy must investigate a government sex scandal, while battling tuberculosis.

David Liss

The Ethical Assassin

In August 1985, Lem Altick, a 17-year-old door-to-door encyclopedia salesman, witnesses the murder of two potential customers in their mobile home. Fearing he'll be fingered for the crime, Lem establishes a wary relationship with the likable killer, Melford Kean.

Edward Rutherfurd

The Rebels of Ireland: The Dublin Saga

Rutherfurd wraps up The Dublin Saga begun with The Princes of Ireland with a new work that takes us from the Irish revolt of 1534 to the 1922 triumph of the Irish Free State.

Elizabeth Strout

Abide With Me

In a small Maine town during the 1950s, a devoted minister is puzzled by the complications of life while members of his parish deal with the monotony of days in their own ways: through gossip, fear, or addictions.

Lauren Willig

The Masque of the Black Tulip

The Napoleonic-era English spy from The Secret History of the Pink Carnation, returns to battle a deadly French spy, the Black Tulip.